Pigeon Problem Is Supervisorial Feather Ruffler

SAN DIEGO (CNA) — A pigeon protest piqued the interest of the County Board of Supervisors Tuesday.

This, despite an attempt of Chief Administrative Officer Fred J. Morey to pigeon-hole the matter.

A rural El Cajon man doesn't think its funny, but the board, having a slow day, had time to fly it around for a little bit.

John Portland, complained that his pigeon-keeping neighbors let them fly free. The flocks of 50 and 60 birds, he said, mess up his roof and ruin anything he tries to grow in his garden.

Morey said enforcement of a regulatory ordinance does not appear to be practical, short of a ban-the-pigeon law.

Supervisor Jack Walsh characteristically would not let the subject drop. The staff was instructed to broaden the scope of its pigeon reporting.

Supervisor Henry A. Boney suggested that the matter might come under the jurisdiction of Bud James, newly-appointed coordinator of law and justice.

James, who resigned as county clerk to fill the new position, said, "I've only been on the job one day and you are giving me the bird already."

Public relations officer Jim McCain suggested that an anti-pigeon ordinance would come home to roost.

Boney later said the county might refer the pigeon case to the Comprehensive Planning Organization.

"It's obviously regional," he said. "A pigeon in flight respects no city-county boundary lines."

Chairman William A. Craven said the county has not had a flock of pigeon complaints.

Drugs Charge Nets Two In Spring Valley

A 25-year-old Jamul Woman and a 17-year-old companion were arrested in Spring Valley last week after Sheriff's deputies, reacting to a call for help with their car, discovered them in possession of retricted dangerous drugs, reports said.

Anita Rae England, 25, was charged with possession of restricted dangerous drugs and joyriding, and the juvenile was arrested on those charges and an added one of curfew violation.

According to reports from the Sheriff's Department, the two suspects were contacted after the call for help with their car at about 2:30 a.m. Friday. The juvenile, it was noted, appeared to be in a drunken state.

A check of her belongings revealed a small black box similar to a "pill box" containing a white powdery substance with black specks. Before deputies were able to check the box, the juvenile handed it to Miss England who refused to allow the deputies to take possession of it without force.

The car, which belonged to the juvenile's mother, was not supposed to be in her possession, a check with the mother indicated.

Warnings Issued On Hitch-Hiking

"Hitching a ride may mean homicide."

That is the message from the local Sheriff' office.

Lt. F. P. Hill, of officer in charge of the Lemon Grove office which serves both Lemon Grove and Spring Valley, warned today that several crimes against juvenile hitchhikers, particularly females, have occured recently.

Lt. Hill said his officers are

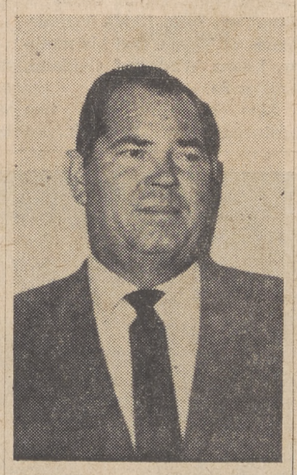
APPLE DAYS ARRIVE — The Lemon Grove Kiwanis Club's annual "Apple Days" arrived Wednesday when the boxcar carrying the fruit from Washington was opened. As expected, sales boomed from that moment. Len Farness, left in photo, was on hand to buy the first box from Apple Days chairman John Johnson.
Boxes of 100 Washington Extra Fancy Delicious apples are being sold for $10 each, and half and quarter sized amounts are also available, Johnson said. Apples may be obtained from the railroad car at Imperial and North ave. in Lemon Grove, or by phoning any of the following numbers: 463-8429, 463-3212, 466-6326, 470-2493, or 469-5201. Johnson said that the club expects to be sold out by 5 p.m. Saturday.

Shumate Seeks Reelection On Fire Dept. Record

Third of a series of three

Parker Shumate, an executive with the Pacific Telephone Co., is seeking re-election to his post as a director of the Lemon Grove Fire District board.

Shumate, 46, presently serves as chairman. He was first elected to the board seven years ago when he defeated Director Robert "Bob" Vaught in a close election. When his term expired three years ago, he was appointed to the board when he was unopposed and the election canceled.



Parker B. "Bonnie" Shumate

Shumate said that the board, during his terms of service, had "improved many of the benefits of the department by adding considerable equipment and we have kept the tax rate down. When you compare the efficiency of the Lemon Grove Department to others in California, our district shows to be among the best."

"We have high morale in the Department and our fire safety quotient is as good as any in the State. I know of no district with a better rating than ours in Lemon Grove.

"We worked out a fine mutual aid program with Spring Valley, La Mesa, and the Division of Forestry. This program will help to avert holocausts such as we faced last year during the Laguna burn.

"We also get top ratings on our auditing procedures. County and State auditors commend us on our handling of public funds. We are told that our handling accrues to the best interest of the taxpayers as well as to the safety of all the citizens in the District.

"I enjoy working with people in the community. I have proven my capabilities by my record. That's why I have chosen to run again."

Shumate is president of the Lemon Grove Lions club, a member of the L.G. Congregational church, and a member of the Lemon Grove Mason's Blue Lodge.

He was in charge of the Lions club White Cane sales earlier this month by which the local club raised more than $1,000 for sight conservation. Part of the proceeds are being used to screen the vision of pupils in Lemon Grove's kindergarten and first grades.

He and his wife have three children.

Spring Valley Fire District Election Set

Three incumbents are running for election to three seats on the Spring Valley Fire Protection District Board of Directors.

That brings to mind the question, "If only three are running for three seats, why the election?"

The reason for the election is that there are four names on the ballot. The fourth belongs to Chester Abood, who since filing his candidacy has moved out of town, making him ineligible to hold a seat even if eleceted. His request to drop from the race came too late to call off the election, which would not have been needed if only three candidates were running for the three vacancies.

The incumbents are Richard Allen, of 9220 Lamar st., Spring Valley, Stan Totten, of 10724 Challenge blvd., La Mesa, and Virgil Steffen, of 4058 Rogers rd., Spring Valley.

Although Totten's home is within the La Mesa City Limits, it lies within the boundaries of the Spring Valley Valley Fire District.

Totten, who has served on the board for 15 years, has a career that includes actual work in the fire protection business, having served as a volunteer fireman for two years.

Totten cited the department as one of which everyone in the district could be proud. He said he knows of no way any improvement could be made.

Totten is presently serving as vice-president of the board.

Virgil Steffen, who is president of the present board, has been with the district for six years. He was on vacation and unavailable for comment.

Richard Allen is another board member who has been with the district prior to serving on the board of directors. His career includes seven years as a volunteer fireman and 10 years on the board.

Allen, who is a member of the Spring Valley Chamber of Commerce and a Red Cross First Aid Instructor, said that the Spring Valley department has "A fine chief and excellent firemen." Together with his wife, Emma, Allen spent two days administering first aid to firefighters at last year's Laguna Fire.

GuideLine Service Ready For East County People

Lemon Grove and Spring Valley residents who have a problem — any kind of a problem that can't seem to be resolved, there's now a place that they should know about.

It's GuideLine, the San Diego countywide information and referral service — a free, confidential service funded by the United Crusade.

GuideLine provides information about legal, health, financial, housing, recreation and social services offered by both private and public agencies. Although located at 1196 Broadway in downtown San Diego, GuideLine is set up to help any Lemon Grove or Spring Valley resident quickly, accurately and by telephone.

From Lemon Grove and Spring Valley, GuideLine's number is 238-1111.

In its first year of operation, GuideLine has become a center where minority group other "non-establishment" types could get answers to their questions without feeling uncomfortable or defensive.

At the same time, parents, teachers and professional people feel equally at ease.

GuideLine also has developed a comprehensive file of community resources so that people who need to know who provides what service, can get that information in a single, quick call. GuideLine today lists more than 2,000 separate agencies — local, state, national, even international.

GuideLine doesn't provide long-term individual counseling, nor does it give direct services which would duplicate programs of existing private and public agencies.

Its staff does try to counsel people in crisis, helps them to identify their problems, and directs them to the agency that can help define answers.

GuideLine is just one of the nearly 70 agencies supported by the United Crusade that returns Lemon Grove and Spring Valley dollars to these communities in services.

RSD Lake Is Filled

It's filled to the brim, all 48,885,000 gallons worth.

Cottonwood Lake, San Diego County's newest recreational lake is now filled, according to Leonard Graysen, Executive Vice President and Chief Executive Officer of Rancho San Diego.

Top-off came just one month after the staging of a ceremonial water pour by local and national leaders at the site of the major recreational center for the new town development of Rancho San Diego in Spring Valley. The filling ran at the rate of 90,000 gallons per hour.

Initial construction for the 155 acre man-made lake began on February 15, according to Graysen. The new water recreation facility features one mile of contoured shore line and will be fully stocked for fishing for residents of the Rancho and the public.

"We have completed the safety fencing of Cottonwood Lake and opening is slated

Palm Improvement Contract Awarded

SAN DIEGO (CNA) — The County Board of Supervisors on Tuesday awarded a contract for the improvement of Palm Street in Lemon Grove between Imperial and Golden avenues.

The street will be widened to 64 feet for four lanes of traffic at a construction cost of $229,826.

The R. E. Hazard Contracting Co. Submitted the lowest of seven bids.

School Bonds Rejected 54-45% in Light Vote

Voters, probably fearful of the higher, soon-to-be-delivered County tax bills, refused to grant the Grossmont Union High School District approval of a $19½ million bond issue for high school sites, buildings, and improvements Tuesday.

Unofficial results, but with all precincts reporting in, showed that 45.7 per cent of the voters said yes; 54.3 per cent said no. A 66 2/3 per cent yes vote would have passed the issue. Only 23.98 per cent of the qualified voters turned out.

Districtwide the vote was 10,279 yes; 12,280 no.

In Lemon Grove the vote was 1,048 yes; 1,495 no. In percentage it was 41.21-58.79.

In the Spring Valley-La Mesa District the vote was 4,345 yes; 5,161 no. Percentages were 45.71-54.29.

Austin Sellery, Grossmont District Superintendent, said Wednesday that he was "surprised by the resut. We put on a good campaign and experienced a sympathetic public reaction.

"There appeared to be some confusion because of the name 'Grossmont' appearing on a ballot in an election for Grossmont College a few weeks earlier."

Sellery said he favored consolidating school elections "but only school elections. When consolidated with other types of elections they have not always been as successful."

He said he would look to citizens' committees for their reaction before considering another election. "The need for the money is there and we told the story accurately. District residents know what condition their schools are in".

Another election probably won't be called "until there is an indication of greater willingness on the part of the public to take an active part in making the election successful," he said.

LG Fire Report

The Lemon Grove Fire Department, for the week of Oct. 11-18, answered four fire calls and two rescue cals.

The most damaging fire was Oct. 16, at the 8400 block Mt. Vernon st., where a housecar belonging to Mitchell Gegax, of 2356 Lawton dr., Lemon Grove, was damaged in the amount of $13,000. Cause of the fire is under investigation.

Oct. 14, at 6:02 a.m., firemen were called to the Casa Blanca Rest Home on Broadway, where a short in an electric blanket had started a fire, causing about $150 damage.

Local Lass Gets Prize In Contest

Gloria J. McDonnell, 6, of 9491 Tropico dr., Spring Valley, was the only person in San Diego County to win an award in the 1971 National Creative Writing Contest sponsored by the Open Court Publishing Company.

Gloria McDonnell

Miss McDonnell won an honorable mention award for her entry, "My Trip", which told of her adventures with her family on a recent trip to Sacramento.

She wrote her story as a classroom assignment and her teacher, Ernestine Rosenlof, decided to enter it in the competition. Her prize was a set of eight Children's Classics and a certificate of merit.

Miss McDonnell is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey L. McDonnell and is a student at Convent of the Sacred Heart in El Cajon.

Underground Press Urges Revolt For People; Freedom For Itself

H. Rap Brown, the Negro militant, was wounded and captured last week in New York, following a bar hold-up in which New York Police say he was involved.

Along with new charges Brown will face when he recovers, are some old ones. These include arson, and incitement to riot in the 1967 civil disorders in Cambridge, Mass. He was put on the FBI's most wanted list in May, 1970, after he failed to answer the charges.

Since 1967 Brown has been a hero of the "underground" press, especially those who oscillate between encouraging revolution and lacing their columns with pornographic material.

Brown, himself, has been underground since he failed to make a court appearance on March 7, 1970 when he supposedly left New York for Cambridge where he was to stand trial.

At that time Brown was free on bond following a 1968 conviction in New Orleans on a Federal Firearms Act violation, for carrying concealed weapons and for carrying pistols in an auto without a permit.

The underground press has gotten a lot of mileage out of Brown since he succeeded Stokley Carmichael as national director of the Student National Coordinating Committee (SNCC) and became the figurehead for Negro violence. And now the situation will be milked some more.

Already, Brown's attorney, William Kunstler, has claimed that Brown had to go underground because of "fear for his life."

All of these things is grist for the underground mills. They will lay it on the "establishment" and all of its "ills". They will attack the court system and the "pigs" that supply the raw material by which courts are operated. They will accuse the "conventional" press of "not telling it like it is." Yet none would want to try to operate under a dictatorship because no matter how craven a dictator is, he wouldn't put up with an underground publication for more than one issue.

Crocodile tears of the underground press of the New Left in Philadelphia brought wry smiles to the faces of the more rational citizens a few weeks ago.

The underground complained that Philadelphia Police Department, under the direction of Police Commissioner Frank L. Rizzo, ws using "four to six surveillance cars to watch one or two of their people at the time on a round-the-clock basis."

Who did the undergrounders complain to?

Reporters of the conventional press, that's who.

"The whole thing," one of the Free Press spokesmen wept on a reporter's shoulder, "is overdone—simply blatant and oppressive."

Now, isn't that shameful? Here are a number of "publishers" going about their business of spreading venom and hatred towards "the establishment", expressing contempt for the rights of others to be secure with their privately owned property (their own is exempt from this contempt), openly urging youth to defy the law and engage in all sorts of immorality from illicit sex to indulgence in drugs; and teaching that force must be used to "destroy the system".

So, large numbers of their SDS-Hippie-SNCC-Yippie-Panther pack-followers have been involved in all sorts of crime from murder and mayhem to burning and bombing—up to and including last week's escapade of SNCC's apostle of violence Rap Brown.

But when the police decide to keep an eye on the revolutionist press, that is "blatant and oppressive."

The first responsibility of the police is to protect the rights and safety of law-abiding citizens. An essential part of that job is to keep a watchful eye on those who threaten to violate the rights and safety of the people.

Let's hear it for the Philadelphia Police Department!

Human Relations Series Planned Oct. 31-Nov. 21

"The Callenge of Change in the Heartland" is the theme of a four-session human relations series co-sponsored by the Office of Community Services of Grossmont College and Heartland Human Relations Association to begin October 31.

Each session will be held in the student center of the college with refreshments at 7 p.m. and programs beginning at 7:30 p.m.

The first program will be highlighted by a speaker from the California Teachers Association. James O. Lewis, who serves the CTA as Human Relations Executive, will be the keynote speaker before a reaction panel. Questions from the audience will make up much of the program.

The second program, which will be held November 7, will include a film, "No Hiding Place; Minority Life in the Suburbs". Small group discussions will also take place, led by Doug Fitch, associate professor of religion at San Fernando State College.

November 14 will bring Caddy Jackson and Bill Johnson, co-ordinators of Project Understanding. They will present their program, "Life Enactments".

The final program, November 21, will consist of workshops in several areas of potential community involvement.

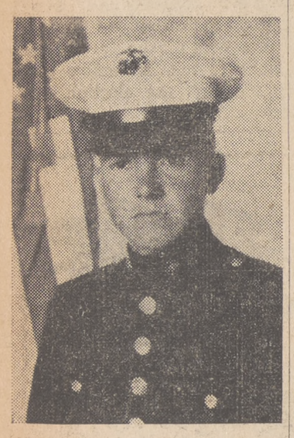
In Uniform

Henry Howison

Army Private Henry F. Howison, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry F. Howison, of Lemon Grove, recently completed the first phase of training under the Modern Volunteer Army Field Experiment at Ft. Ord, Calif.

The new concept, called VOLAR, combines basic and advanced individual training into a single 16-week program. Decentralized instruction at the unit level and a reduction of formations and inspections gives the soldier more time to train and increased off-duty time.

Fewer restrictions on off-duty travel and improved living facilities are other benefits of the VOLAR concept.



William Richards

Marine Pvt. William D. Richards, son of William D. Richards, of 9337 Lemon ave., Lemon Grove, has graduated from recruit training at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot, San Diego.

He attended Utah State University in Logan.

Slides Of Jamboree Set Oct. 23

The "Jamboree that wouldn't die," the XIII World Jamboree held in Tokyo Japan in August, will be relived by some 50 San Diego Scouts October 23 when they meet at the North Park Recreation Center at 6:30 p.m. to view color slides of the Jamboree and see souvenirs from many of the 98 countries represented at the World Scouting event.

Dubbed as the "Jamboree that wouldn't die," the XIII World Jamboree encamped in the foothills of Mt. Fuji was threatened by a typhoon that hurled the fury of driving rains whipped by 30-40 mile winds for 3 days at the thousands of tents housing the 24,000 scouts in attendance. Scouting camping skills prevailed, however, and even though some 22,000 were evacuated during the height of the typoon they were returned to the site to continue the Jamboree — truly a "Jamboree that wouldn't die."

Scouts and their families will see the color slides showing the fury of the typoon the exciting and colorful Scout-O-Rama in which Units around the world demonstrated their culture and skills, and the colorful tour of Tokyo and Kyoto which preceeded the Jamboree. Some of the customs of old Japan will be seen in the colorful Kimono's, the scout uniforms, and other souvenirs that scouts brought back with them.

The program will consist of a dinner with chopsticks for the nimble fingered, presentation of awards to Scouts who distinguished themselves at the Jamboree, and the slide and souvenir display.

Woman's Club Meeting Due

The Spring Valley Woman's Club will hold a work party Oct. 27 at Memory Lane Center, Spring Valley, at 9:30 a.m. to fashion items for its annual bazaar, planned for Nov. 10.

A closed business meeting will begin at 1 p.m. Booth chairmen will give progress reports and new members will be initiated.

Frogs do not hunt their prey, but instead, lie in wait to catch insects as they pass by.

STRINGING BEADS — Mildred Hagan, of 4144 Camino Paz, Spring Valley, is busy stringing beads for her booth at the Friends Community Church bazaar, which will be held November 6 from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. on the church grounds at Bancroft and Kenwood in Spring Valley. Mrs. Hagan is arts and crafts chairman for the affair. Other booths to be included are baked goods, homemade candy, snacks and refreshments, and "fancy works". Funds raised at the bazaar will be used for equipment for the church's social club.

Unit Meetings Set By Women Voters' League

Congressional reform, the role of Congress, centers of power, and congressional procedures will be some of the subjects under discussion at the Grossmont-Cajon Valley League of Women Voters' next round of unit meetings.

The second round of unit meetings on the national program study on "Congress' will be held during the week of October 25 at the following locations:

Tuesday, Oct. 26 at 9:30 a.m. at the home of Mrs. J. R. Shainman, 946 Garfield ave., El Cajon.

Wednesday Oct. 27, 9:30 a.m. at the home of Mrs. Robert Young, 9854 Shadow rd., Grossmont, and at 7:30 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Leonard Orysiek, 4831 69th place, San Diego.

Thursday, Oct. 28, in the home of Mrs. S. R. Ackerly, Jr., 9026 Shirley court, La Mesa.

All women of voting age are encouraged to attend these units as guests and take part in this timely, interesting topic.

Hardison's Telespanish

By JAMES HARDISON

"Esta usted bien?" is the way to say "Are you alright?" or it might be translated "Are you O.K.?". A standard response might be "Estoy bien." which means "I am alright." or "I am O.K."

"Esta usted mal?" means "Are you sick?" which also suggests "Are you ill?" We might respond "Estoy mal." for "I am sick." or we may stress the point by saying "Estoy muy mal." (I am very sick.).

"Esta usted alegre?" is translated "Are you happy?" A response might suggest "Estoy alegre." for "I am happy." Another word for "alegre" is "feliz." We may use "alegre" and "feliz" interchangably. Thus, "Estoy feliz." suggests the same idea and meaning as "Estoy alegre."

"Esta usted triste?" means "Are you sad?" A negative response might be "No estoy triste." for "I am not sad." This response might be reaffirmed by saying "Estoy feliz."

"Esta usted cansado?" is the way to say "Are you tired?" If you wish to answer in the affirmative, you might say "Estoy cansado." for "I am tired." A negative response might be "No estoy cansado." for "I am not tired." A supportive statement might be "Yo estoy bien descansado." for "I am well rested."

"Esta usted comodo?" means "Are you comfortable?" We hope that you will always be able to answer "Estoy muy comodo." (I am very comfortable).

Expressions asking about your condition may be reinforced by calling 276-2762 on your telephone. A recorded voice will answer and say each word and phrase. After you hear the voice say them, you may want to also.

IMPORTANT PHRASES:

Say "Esta usted bien?" (eh-STAH oo-STEHD bee-EHN) for "Are you well?"

Say "Estoy bien." (eh-STOH-ee bee-EHN) for "I am well."

Say "Esta usted mal?" (eh-STAH oo-STEHD mahl) for "Are you ill?"

Say "No estoy mal." (noh eh-STOH-ee mahl) for "I am not sick."

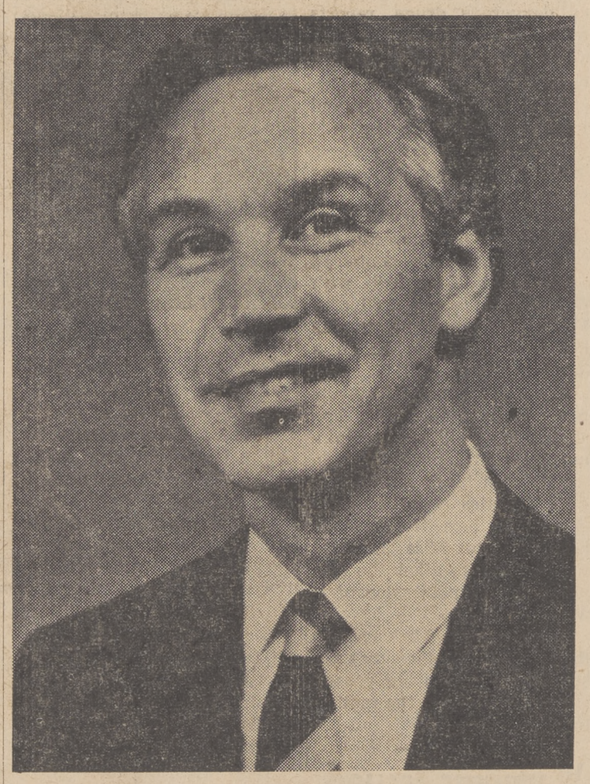
Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at Glen Abbey's Chapel of the Roses for Velma Jane Ebert, 67, of 3211 Acacia st., Lemon Grove, who died October 17 at a San Diego hospital.

Mrs. Ebert, a native of Missouri, lived here 10 years, and was a member of the Church of Jesus Christ locally. Interment was in Glen Abbey Memorial Park, under the direction of Paris Mortuary.

Mrs. Ebert is survived by her husband, Arley; two sons, Arthur Thiemans, of Virginia, and Glen Thiemans, of Washington; two daughters, Doris Hursky, of Madera, California, and Barbara Mills, of Santa Clara, California; a half-sister, Clara Gann, of Oregon; and 11 grandchildren.

Vice President Spiro Agnew's daughter, Susan, works as an assistant coordinator of volunteer services at a Cambridge, Md. hospital.



LECTURE SET — Robert H. Mitchell, of Edinburgh, Scotland, will be the keynote speaker at a Christian Science Lecture October 28 at the La Mesa Christian Science Church, on the corner of Allison and Palm, La Mesa. Mitchell will lecture on "Let God Direct Your Life."

Guiding Hands Group Plans Pottery Exhibit

Home of Guiding Hands Adult Workshop will present a pottery exhibit at Grossmont Shopping Center October 23 through 29. The work will be displayed at the west end of the mall, and residents of the Home will demonstrate pottery-making techniques.

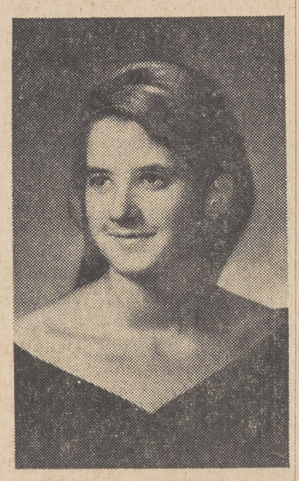
Guiding Hands is a residential facility for the mentally retarded. The workshop program was recently created for those residents who are over public school age. It provides continued education for adult retardates not participating in any other educational program.

The workers chose to call themselves "The Finger Factory," and they produce such items as hanging planters, vases, wine carafes, and coffee mugs. All articles are for sale, and are priced by the students according to level of achievement and esthetic value. Proceeds from sales are used to buy more materials.

The factory operates four days a week, with the fifth day set aside for visits to museums and gift shops so that the students can be exposed to new ideas in design. Work is geared to the individual, rather than training the individual to perform an isolated task.

Most of the residents employ the coil method of pottery-making, but those who need immediate reinforcement in their work use pre-formed molds. Many are motivated by the sale of their products, although some just enjoy "creating something with their hands."

The public is invited to attend the Grossmont Center exhibit, free of charge, or to visit Home of Guiding Hands in Lakeside.



PLANS MADE — Mr. and Mrs. Arnold C. Hall, of San Diego, announce the engagement of their daughter, Karen Anne, to William A. Dettenborn of Hartford, Connecticut.

The bride-to-be is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Hall, of 2139 Glencoe dr., Lemon Grove. She graduated from Crawford High School.

Her fiance, who attended schools in Connecticut, is currently employed by an engineering consultant firm. The wedding is planned for December at Saint John of the Cross Church in Lemon Grove.

Toastmasters Plan Contest

The best humorous speaker in the East County will be chosen tomorrow night when eight East County Toastmasters Clubs participate in the annual Area Four and Eleven Humorous Speech Contest.

The event will be held at the La Mesa Fine Arts Center, 8053 University ave., La Mesa at 7:30 p.m. The public is invited, and there is no charge for admission.

Contestants in the competition will be the club champions from the eight participating Toastmasters clubs. Area Four clubs participating are Walker Scott, Mt. Helix, Hospitality, and College Toastmasters. Competing for Area Eleven will be Heartland, El Cajon, Spring Valley, and Lemon Grove Toastmasters Clubs.

Buses For Football

Bus service is available for football this week-end.

For the Friday night Aztec-Utah State game SD Transit buses will leave various locations at 6 p.m. The one serving this area leaves from College Grove Shopping center on Ryan road.

Charger fans attending the Buffalo game Saturday will have non-stop service to the stadium from the same location at 7:30 p.m.

Buses will return after the game to the starting point. Fare is 50 cents each way.

Services To Be Auctioned By COMBO

Hundreds of services, guaranteed to amuse and pamper high bidders, will be auctioned at COMBO-Mart, COMBO's informal public auction Dec. 10 at the San Diego Community Concourse.

Individuals and businesses throughout the county have donated imaginative services for this benefit auction which raises funds for 10 major performing arts groups.

For a $1.50 admission to COMBO-Mart one can bid on:

Free wake-up service for one month donated by the Answering Service of La Jolla. Value $15.

Fifteen 40-minute singing lessons from Mrs. Lauren C. Post of San Diego. Value $90.

Flower arrangements every month for one year from the Crown House Florists of Coronado and another whole year from Casa de Flores in La Jolla. Value of each year is $150.

A large cake baked and decorated by award-winning Navy bakers at the Naval Training Center. Value $50.

Two weeks boarding for a medium-size dog (up to 65 pounds) at the Lemon Grove Kennels donated by Mr. and Mrs. John Dougherty. Value $28.

Six months of hair styling — one appointment a week for 26 consecutive weeks — at the Hairem in La Jolla. Donated by stylist Roger Leach, the value is $185.

Six golf lessons from Willie Wansa, golf pro at Torrey Pines Golf Course Pro Shop.

Rugby Match Set Nov. 11

A game sometimes described as "legalized mayhem" will be played at Balboa Stadium November 11 at 7:30 p.m. The San Diego Rugby Club will meet the Brigham Young University Rugby Team and the Unicorn Ruby Club of Huntington Beach will play the OMRAC Rugby Club of San Diego in a double-header match.

Proceeds will be used to help send the Mount Miguel High School Band and Orchestra to the First International Festival of Music in Vienna, Austria, in July, 1972.

Rugby, an off-shoot of soccer, and forerunner of football is gaining in popularity in the country as more and more young people become exposed to the game. Tackling is as fierce as in football but the players wear absolutely no protective gear.

EDUCATION WEEK — San Diego County Board of Supervisors have proclaimed October 24-30 "American Education Week" in the County. Accepting the resolution from Chairman William Craven on behalf of the school children of the County are Mary Dosek of the fourth grade at Westwood School and Mike Ford, fifth grade at Pomerado School.

Education Week To Be Celebrated October 24-30

American Education Weel in San Diego County has beer officially proclaimed by the County Board of Supervisors and the County Board of Education for October 24-30.

"Help Schools Bridge the Gap" is this year's theme. Accordingly, schools have scheduled open houses, displays special assemblies, and other events to deal with cultural economic, and communication gaps in their communities. Because of Veterans' Day and Halloween holidays, American Education Week activities in some San Diego County schools will continue into November.

In their proclamations, the supervisors and school board members urged all citizens "to reaffirm their commitment to examine our schools and assist them in bridging the gap between what is and what can be in the process of providing the best possible education for all."

The proclamations affirmed that the schools:

Recognize the unique worth and capabilities of each person.

Provide opportunities for the development of each student's talents and character to enable him to determine his goals and to find fulfillment in reaching them.

Seek preservation of an environment that enriches the life of every human being.

Work constantly to bridge the gaps that threaten the unity and strength of the nation.

The proclamations stressed hat each citizen must have an opportunity to learn about the progress, programs, and potential of the schools. American Education Week is designed to provide this opportunity in many schools throughout the country.

American Education Week is sponsored by the National Education Association, the American Legion, U.S. Office of Education, and the National Congress of Parents and Teachers.

Roundup Week For Boy Scouts

Fun and adventure attracts boys to Scouting and boys 11 years and older who want to be Scouts have the opportunity to join during Roundup Week, which is this week.

"Touchdown Roundup, the fall membership drive of San Diego County Council, Boy Scouts of America, began in September and will continue through the end of the year", said John Bruhn, Touchdown Roundup chairman.

"A Scouting program was conducted in most elementary schools throughout San Diego County on October 6, School Night fr Scouting, when hundreds of youngsters flocked to join Cub Scouting for boys 8-10 years old," Bruhn continued.

"Boy Scout troops throughout the county will now conduct an open house Scout program at their regular troop meeting during the week of October 18-22 and all boys and their parents invited to attend," Bruhn added.

Bob Babich, San Diego Charger linebacker and honorary chairman for the Roundup said, "Every Scout troop will be ready to welcome boys to their year-round program of activities and I urge every boy in San Diego who is a Scout to visit the troop in his neighborhood and join up.

"It's fun to be a scout," continued Babich, "and I should know because I was one. Every parent is interested in the training their sons get in Scouting for they know the program provides character building, citizenship training, and personal fitness."

During the annual clam festival at Annapolis, Md., visitors consumed 8.5 tons of fried clams and 7.5 tons of steamed ones.

HOME AGAIN — Jack Cruse tests a roast turkey that is destined to be the centerpiece at a catered affair. Cruse moved his Jac's Catering service, together with his 20 employees, to Lemon Grove because of easy access to the rest of the county.

Thriving Catering Concern Returns Here Because of People, Location

Affluent San Diegans are eating more but cooking less. Proof of this pudding is the burgeoning catering business — a business that numbered only the elite among its clientele a few years ago.

Today there is hardly anyone who hasn't been involved in a catered affair.

Jack Cruse, well known in this area from the days when he was chef at Michael's Cafe in Lemon Grove, has come back to this community to set up his thriving catering business at 7810 Broadway — just a few doors west of the former location of Michael's. Until recently it was occupied by Pernicano's Pizzaria.

Cruse said he chose to come back to Lemon Grove because of its proximity of the freeway which makes it minutes from any catering job he has booked. He also remembers his many friends — friends he made in the eight or nine years until his former associate, Henry Goldy retired (the first time) in 1963. Later the same year Cruse showed up at the Bronze Room in La Mesa — again with Henry Goldy who came out of retirement to purchase the place. The Bronze Room was purchased by Servomation in 1968 and they operate it presently.

Cruse recalled some of his catering jobs. He served 3,000 5-course sit-down dinners in 25 minutes recently at the Community Concourse. "The food was served hot, too," he said.

"Once we served 4,000 steak dinners. Steaks are not good unless they are hot," he said, "so we served them quickly." The biggest catering job, and probably the biggest ever attempted in San Diego was a Shrine picnic at which 6,000 barbecue dinners were served.

The other day his firm served an outdoor steak dinner in Borrego and a windstorm came up as the food was being served. "There wasn't anything we could do except to serve it as fast as we could. Some dinners had a little sand with their steak but nobody failed to eat," he said.

The other day his firm served a dinner built around Spanish paella.

"What is that?" we asked.

"It's a casserole after the fashion of the bouillabaisse the French make," Cruse said. "Only it has more character. The French use only a couple of kinds of fish. The Spanish casserole has shrimp, crab, lobster, clam, mussel plus a couple of kinds of fish, all highly seasoned and cooked with rice," he explained.

Luaus were big this summer, he said. But the cool weather last week stopped them all at once. "We'll go indoors until next Spring," he said.

"There has been a rash of Lebanese and Jewish parties this Fall," Cruse said. "Many of them were planned around their holidays."

"We've had a busy year," he said. We had 22 catered affairs in one week last month. We are running about 75 a month."

Involved with Cruse is his wife Mary, who is joint owner with him in the Travelator Restaurant in El Cortez hotel annex. They have operated that since 1968.

Working with Cruse is Paul Hoffman who was also with Goldy and Cruse when Michael's was in operation. Hoffman has a minority interest in the catering firm.

"We may open a restaurant in Lemon Grove after we get this place operating smoothly," he said. "But we want to make sure there's a demand for it. There are several good restaurants here right now. Maybe in a year or two there'll be a need for another one."

PTA Highlights

Palm Junior High

Mrs. James Marshall, of the Palm Junior High School Parent-Teachers Association, announced last week that the school's PTA will sponsor an open house this evening at 7:30 p.m.

Parents will meet in the school cafetorium for a brief general meeting, to be followed by a tour of the classrooms which their children use each day.

Refreshments will be served following the tour of classrooms, Mrs. Marshall said.

Mount Miguel

The Mount Miguel Parent-Teachers Association last week announced that the school and PTA will jointly sponsor on open house program for parents of students at the school.

Following a short business meeting in the school cafetorium at 7 p.m. October 28, parents will be invited to follow a shortened schedule of their youngsters' day at school.

The open house provides an opportunity for parents to meet with teachers briefly and discuss classes.

At the October board meeting of the organization, PTA president Mrs. Henry Reinecke discussed the possibility with members of becoming the Parent-Teacher-Student Association.

Present at the meeting were four representatives of the student body. A study is planned to determine if enough student interest prevails to make the PTSA workable.

Also at the board meeting, a report on the PTA-sponsored "insight fair" held recently at the school was given.

The fair, which was called successful, provided students an opportunity to "rap" with representatives of such organizations as "DEFY", "Teen Challenge" and "Crisis House".

Monte Vista Homecoming Is Tomorrow

Pageantry, parades, and memories will highlight this year's homecoming festivities at Monte Vista High School tomorrow night.

In keeping with the tenth anniversary of the school, Monte Vista plans to make the homecoming much more colorful and exciting than any other held in past years.

This year's homecoming princesses are: Jody Conlon, Kim Godwin Jill Jacobson, Patti Jones, and Diana Wear. The queen, to be selected from the girls, will be announced Friday night.

An ASB float designed by George Gray, Monte Vista art teacher, will be an added attraction to the homecoming parade. The float will feature the queen, two "soldiers", and a "maiden princess." The float will also be entered in the Mother Goose Parade.

A tea for the Monte Vista Alumni will be held from 10 to 11:30 p.m. in the Monte Vista Gold Room. A senior dance will also be held at that time for Monte Vista students.

Two Programs Set in La Mesa

The La Mesa Recreation Department last week announced the opening of two programs this month.

The first is a series of classes for potential soccer referees starting October 27. The classes will be from 7 to 8:30 p.m. each Wednesday at Nebo Hall, 4724 Nebo dr., La Mesa.

Those who complete the class will be eligible to perform as referees for the Suburban Soccer League.

The second program is a class for beginners in knitting, which is scheduled to start October 28. The classes will be each Thursday evening from 7 to 8:30 p.m. at the Nan Couts Girls' Cottage, 8440 University ave., La Mesa.

Registration has opened for the class and a registration fee of $5 will be in effect. Deadline for registration is Wednesday.

Local Veterinarian Enrolled In Course

Dr. Robert F. Burns, a Lemon Grove veterinarian, is now attending a week of classes at the University of California, Davis.

He is one of 25 veterinarians enrolled in a University Extension cass titled "Diseases of the Fish" that runs through tomorrow.

Instruction is by professors in the School of Veterinary Medicine at UCD and a special outside Professor from Texas A & M University, College Station, Texas.

Extension classes are supported by fees paid by enrollees.

BIBLE CONFERENCE — Dr. Jesse M. Hendley, well known evangelist and Bible teacher, will be the guest speaker at the Lemon Grove Baptist Church's week-long Prophetic Bible Conference next week. Nightly meetings have been scheduled for 7:15 p.m. beginning Monday.
Hendley, who is currently pastor of the Hillside Baptist Church in Atlanta, Georgia, has been active in Bible conferences and crusades since 1946.

Area Births

Following are the latest births for the Lemon Grove and Spring Valley area as reported by Grossmont Hospital:

To Mr. and Mrs. Duane L. Boyer, of Spring Valley, a 6-lb. 14-oz. boy on October 6.

To Mr. and Mrs. James M. Mudd, of Spring Valley, an 8-lb. 6½-oz. boy on October 6.

To Mr. and Mrs. James J. Medina, of Lemon Grove, a 7-lb. 3-oz. boy on October 8.

To Mr. and Mrs. James W. Taylor, of Spring Valley, a 4-lb. 14-oz. girl on October 9.

To Mr. and Mrs. Bruno S. Cirello, of Spring Valley, a 5-lb. 15-oz. girl on October 10.

To Mr. and Mrs. Clifford L. Meland, of Lemon Grove, a 7-lb. 5-oz. girl on October 11.

To Mr. and Mrs. David W. Wesson, of Spring Valley, a 9-lb. 9-oz. girl on October 12.

ICF Dance Planned

The Italian Catholic Federation Branch No. 251 of Lemon Grove has planned a "Harvest Dance" October 23. A happy hour will take place from 8 p.m. to 9 p.m. when the dance begins. Felix Budhi and his band, who made such a hit at the I.C.F. dance last year, will again offer his music.

Food will be included in the $2 price of admission, and refreshments are extra. Tickets can be obtained at the parish rectory or by calling 466-6115. Only 100 couples can be accommodated.

For heart-helping diets, ask your San Diego County Heart Association for "The Way to a Man's Heart", and a companion receipe booklet.

THE PHONE BOOTH

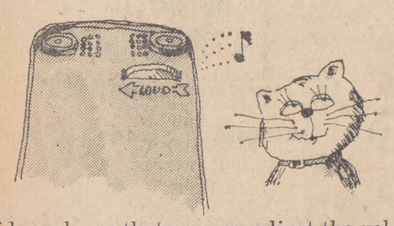
Telephone Pioneers
60 YEARS OF HUMAN SERVICE

This is the insignia of the Telephone Pioneers of America, 335,000 men and women from the telephone industry who believe that the most meaningful contributions an individual can make to his community are his time and energy.

This month, the Pioneers celebrate 60 years of "human service." In that time, they've worked as hospital volunteers, collected and repaired toys and clothes for needy children and worked extensively with the blind. These are only a few of their contributions.

We're proud to have such concerned, involved men and women represent our industry.

Several hundred telephone subscribers in the Jamul area will be receiving better telephone service and paying less for it starting next month. This welcome development will be made possible through the addition of 11.48 square miles of this area to the Base Rate Area of the La Mesa Telephone Exchange. Pacific Telephone's application to extend urban service and prices to most of our Jamul Customers was approved by the California Public Utilities Commission several months ago and construction of the required additional telephone equipment is nearing completion.



Did you know that you can adjust the volume of your telephone's ring? Just turn the phone over and find the adjustment wheel or lever. By turning the wheel or lever in the direction indicated you turn the sound up so it can be heard at quite a distance. If you're in close quarters, turn it the opposite direction, and the ring is hardly more than a purr. On a wall phone, the adjustment lever is either on the side or at the bottom.

Braves, Monte Vista To Match Winless Records

There was not supposed to be a single team in the Grossmont League this season that would finish the year without tasting victory at least once.

But there are two teams — Monte Vista and El Cajon — who are wandering down the path of a poor season, neither having won a single league game.

Oddly enough, both teams have the necessary talent to have a winning season, but both have failed to perform.

Last week, the two teams lost their third games in a row. El Cajon lost a crusher to Grossmont, 33-7, and Monte Vista fell to El Capitan, 7-0.

After tomorrow night's game, however, just one of the teams will remain winless, barring a tie. The Braves and Monarchs will square off at 7 p.m. in the Monte Vista homecoming game, with the Monarchs rated slight favorites.

Monte Vista started it's season on a winning note, collecting a 20-6 victory over La Jolla. But since then, things have been going down hill. The Monarchs have been blown out of two of their last three games.

Last week, however, the Monarchs took on a new appearance when they met El Capitan. The Vaqueros were fresh from a last-minute victory over Mount Miguel and had their minds on future games.

Monte Vista opened the game strong but fizzled quickly. Tim Murphy carried the ball seven times after the opening kickoff for 43 yards on the Monarchs' first drive, but the El Cap defense tightened on its own 29-yard stripe.

After that, not much more was to be heard from the Monte Vista offensive crew The defense took over the limelight for most of the rest of the game, holding the Vaqueros scoreless until there was but one minute remaining in the contest.

At that point, Vaquero quarterback Tom Lockhart hit wingback Chuck Anderson on the Monarch 20-yard line, and the receiver made quick work of the distance between him and the end zone for the score. For El Cap, it was the second game in as many weeks that the Vaqueros have won with a last minute TD.

For El Cajon, things were not nearly as exciting last Friday, although the Braves had moments of hope in the third period against Grossmont.

Grossmont hit for a pair of quick scores in the second quarter and took a 13-0 lead into the dressing room.

El Cajon came back fired up and drove for a touchdown in the opening minutes of the third quarter. Grossmont was unable to move the ball, and El Cajon was on the move again when disaster struck.

A pair of interceptions set up two more Foothiller touchdowns, and El Cajon was down, 27-7, in the final period. The 'Hillers added another touchdown as the game came to a close.

Tomorrow night, two hungry teams will face off on the Monte Vista field for what could be one of the fiercest battles in the league this season.

Monte Vista will pin its hopes on an improved defense and a pretty fair running game. El Cajon will depend on its running game as well, although the Braves will be more likely to take to the air if the Monarch defense proves too tough on the ground.

RECORD BREAKER — Gary Close, Monte Vista's ace cross country runner and holder of four Grossmont League course records, finishes at El Capitan Friday afternoon with the new course mark. Close led Monte Vista to the easy win over the Vaqueros.

NEARS END — Monte Vista runner Tom Wendt gives it all he has as he nears the end of the 1.9-mile race at El Cap Friday. Wendt took second place as he helped his team to the win, 18-41 in a tuneup for the meet with El Cajon Wednesday.

MV Harriers Win Tuneup Over El Cap

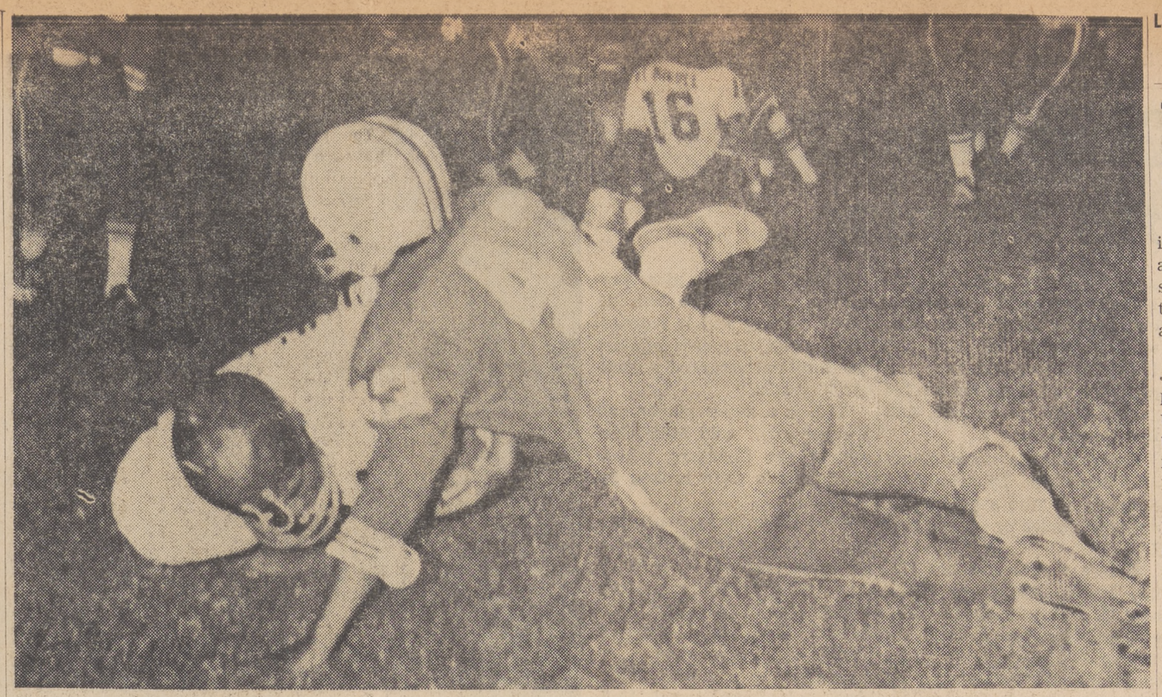
The Monte Vista High School cross country team tuned up for its big meet last Friday afternoon by racking up El Capitan, 18-41 on the losers' course.

The meet was in preparation for a showdown between the Monarchs and El Cajon on the Monarchs course Wednesday. Results of the meet were not known in time for this week's edition, but full details will be available next week.

At El Capitan, Gary Close had little trouble in claiming the record, breaking the old mark by nearly four seconds with a 10:04.2 clocking. Tom Lux, who ran for Monte Vista last year, had the old mark of 10.08.

For Close, it was his fourth record-breaking run in as many weeks. He now owns his own course mark, that of Mt. Miguel, Santana, and El Capitan.

In other league action Friday, Mount Miguel easily bested Santana, 21-34, El Cajon trounced Grossmont, 21-38, and Helix did away with Granite Hills, 24-33.



JUST SHORT — Mount Miguel High School running back Dan Cowan dives for the first down as he is hit by Santana safety Steve Arrollado (43) in game Friday night at Monte Vista High School. Cowan didn't make quite enough yardage on the play, but Mount Miguel whipped the Sultans, 13-0.

ROUNDS THE CORNER — Tim Miller (24) gets around the corner at his own 20-yard line after a broken play in Friday's game, as Santana linebacker Tom Saska (44) gives chase. Miller picked up a key block moments later to escape the grasp of Saska and turn to play into a 75-yard touchdown run. Miller made both touchdowns in the 13-0 win, the other coming on a 24-yard pass play from Jess Jenner.

Matadors Blank Santana, 13-0; Get Big Chance Against 'Hillers

The moment of truth for the Mount Miguel High School football team will be tomorrow night at 8 p.m. on the Matadors' home field when the local crew hosts the powerhouse of the Grossmont League.

Mount Miguel will try to prove that three outstanding performances in as many weeks have not been flukes when the Mats tackle the Grossmont Foothillers.

Last week, Mount Miguel put a damper on Santana, 13-0, spoiling the Sultans' homecoming on a 24-yard pass from Jess Jenner to Tim Miller and a 75-yard broken-play run by Miller.

The defensive crew of the Matadors was most surprising, holding the Sultans scoreless only a week after Santana had run up a 33-14 victory over Monte Vista.

Grossmont has won three league games by lopsided scores after an extremely poor non-league season. The wins have been 35-3 over Monte Vista, 33-7 over El Cajon Valley, and 32-14 over Granite Hills.

Mount Miguel has also looked impressive, although the scores don't show it. The Matadors have bested El Cajon, 28-20, lost a heart-breaker to El Capitan on a last-minute touchdown, 21-14, and belted Santana, 13-0.

In the process of compiling its 2-1 record, the local team has established itself as one of the top running clubs in the league, and one of the most solid defenses in the league.

Grossmont, on the other hand, has yet to face a stiff challenge such as El Capitan or Helix, or even Santana, who has surprised many league fans.

Another thing that will make the game a good one is that Grossmont possesses talents for stopping the pass play and ground-minded clubs could get on the scoreboard against the 'Hillers with more frequency than those who like to pass.

Mount Miguel runs about 75 or 80 percent of the time, with Tim Miller, Don Cowan and Jess Jenner all among the top rushers in the league.

Grossmont is a better running club than a passer, also, but could come up with some problems in that area, as Mt. Miguel has looked pretty good defensively against the rush. Additionally, the Matadors unveiled another weapon last week when the local team stopped Santana pretty well through the air.

When all things are considered, the game should be closer than Grossmont fans would like to think. And Mount Miguel will be "up" for the game, as it will be an excellent chance for the Matadors to establish themselves.

Tight Battles Spice Softball Title Races

The latest results and standings from the La Mesa Recreation Department's slow-pitch softball leagues shows two tight battles for first place and one runaway.

In the Division I league, James Construction leads the pack with an 11-1 record after second place Allied Electric lost a game to break a first-place tie. Allied stands at 10-2.

In the Division II league, La Mesa Fire won a showdown over Lake Murray Little League to take over undisputed possession of first place with an 11-1 record. Lake Murray Little League stands at 10-2.

In the Service Club League, Lake Murray Kiwanis has continued unbeaten and stretched its first place lead to five games over La Mesa Kiwanis and La Mesa Optimists.

Nick's Picks

Grossmont Picked Over Mount Miguel Gridders

Following is the week's prep sports menu, along with those teams most likely to succeed.

Football

Grossmont at Mount Miguel. Grossmont appears to have all its problems solved and is on its way to the league title. Its defensive line is excellent against the rush. Mount Miguel's only chance is to put the ball in the air more and maintain its usual ball control. Grossmont — but by only 8 points.

Santana at Helix. Santana has shown a surprisingly balanced team and a moving offense. Helix gives away a slight edge in its spotty defense but more than makes up for it with a powerful offense. Helix by 6.

El Capitan at Granite Hills. El Capitan is a brutal team and has a fine pass defense. Granite Hills can put it altogether if the defense stiffens up. El Cap by 14.

El Cajon at Monte Vista. The Braves are a hungry team, and like Monte Vista, have been kicked while they have been down. Monte Vista showed signs of putting it together last week when they dropped a tough one to El Cap, 7-0. Monte Vista will win if it can put an offense together that can move the ball. Monte Vista by 1.

Cross Country

The schedule makers gave us some trouble this week, as those meets that would have ordinarily been run tomorrow were run Tuesday and Wednesday except one which will be run this afternoon, in order to give local athletes time to rest for Saturday's Aztec Invitational.

On Tuesday, Mount Miguel had no trouble beating Grossmont, and Helix and Santana were to square off at Helix. Wednesday meet pitted El Cajon and Monte Vista at Monte Vista, with Monte Vista my pick by a single point. This afternoon's meet will pit Granite Hills and El Cap at Granite Hills, with the Eagles picked by four points.

Full details on this week's meets will be in next week's edition of this newspaper.

The next league action will be November 2, a Tuesday, when the top three teams will have an easy time against their opponents:

Monte Vista is a 20-point pick over Granite Hills on the Eagles' course; El Cajon gets a 15-point bulge over Santana at El Cajon; and Mount Miguel gets a similar advantage over Helix at Helix.

In the only close meet, El Capitan should fall to visiting Grossmont by 3 points.

All football games begin at 8 p.m., while league cross country meets are scheduled for 3 p.m.

It's What?

It's Baseball Time For Training Again

The San Diego Padres will report for spring training February 26 at Yuma, Arizona, with the team's first workout scheduled the following day, it was announced by general manager Eddie Leishman at the regular weekly meeting of the Sportscasters/Sportswriters Assn.

Leishman also announced that the Padres will play a 24-game exhibition schedule with 14 contests at Yuma's Desert Sun Stadium.

The Padres open their spring schedule March 10 at Yuma against the California Angels.

San Diego fans who regularly travel to Yuma for the pre-season contests will be able to view the Padres in six weekend games.

The Padres will play the Tokyo Orions at Yuma Saturday-Sunday, March 11-12; Tokyo on Saturday March 18 and the Milwaukee Brewers Sunday March 19; and the San Francisco Giants, Saturday-Sunday April 1-2.

The Cleveland Indians, March 21; the Oakland Athletics, March 23-24 and the Chicago Cubs, March 27 and 28 also will play the Padres at Desert Sun Stadium.

The Padres conclude their 1972 exhibition schedule at Yuma on Tuesday, April 4 against the Angels.

All Yuma games will start at 1 p.m.

Late Nite Game Pits Chargers, Bills Saturday

Dennis Shaw, O. J. Simpson, Haven Moses and the Buffalo Bills invade San Diego Stadium Saturday night to face the San Diego Chargers in a game to begin at 9 p.m.

After three stormy Sundays on the road, the Chargers (1-4) return home hoping to break a four-game losing streak against the exciting but winless Bills (0-5).

The renewal of one of the old American Football League's foremost rivalries was scheduled at midnight Buffalo time because of an agreement with the National Collegiate Athletic Association not to air pro games on Saturday.

San Diego leads the series, 10-5-2.

"Rookie of the Year" in the American Conference in 1970 when he passed for 2,507 yards, Shaw will return to the stadium where he led San Diego State College to 20 wins and one tie during 1968 and 1969. This year, he has completed 59 of 111 passes for 766 yards, a .532 percentage, and five touchdowns.

Noted for his poise, Shaw was described by teammate Simpson as "the same sitting down to dinner or on 3rd and 7."

Shaw's top targets are Haven Moses, his fellow Aztec alumni, and little Marlin Briscoe, who led the AFC in receiving in 1970 with 57 catches. Moses had his best day of 1971 last Sunday when he caught 6 for 151 yards as the Bills lost to the New York Jets, 28-17.

Simpson, brilliant former Heisman Trophy winner from USC, is having his most productive year as a pro with 211 yards rushing and 11 catches. He ran for 69 yards against the Jets and returned a kick-off 43 yards.

"O.J. is a super player and a super guy," said Mike Garrett of the Chargers, whose USC records were broken by Simpson.

The Bills have two other players of Southern California collegiate renown — Al Cowlings from USC and Greg Jones from UCLA — and two former Chargers — Howard Kindig and Levert Carr.

Charger quarterback John Hadl and all-pro guard Walt Sweeney remember those title games as well as a frustrating 20-16 loss to the Denver Broncos before 51,200 at Mile High Stadium last Sunday. Trailing 17-6 at halftime, the Chargers were unable to fulfill a second-half comeback.

FIRST PORTABLE PORTABLE — For the first time in the La Mesa-Spring Valley School district, a portable classroom was moved last week from Northmont Elementary School, after being used there for 13 years. For many years, pupils in that area of the district were bussed to compensate for overcrowding, but district officials indicated that the area has reached saturation and no further growth is expected, so a more permanent facility was needed.

Gulls To Entertain Buckaroos Friday Night

The San Diego Gulls take on the defending league and Lester Patrick Cup champion Portland Buckaroos tomorrow night in the Sports Arena. Game time is 8 p.m.

The Gulls played the Buckaroos in Portland last night in the first game of their important 14-game series this season.

In addition to the excitement that the Gulls and Bucks always seem to generate, the Gulls will honor Edgar Ehrenverth, who retired as an active player last summer.

Ehrenverth, one of the most popular of the Gulls, has settled in San Diego. He is working at a local advertising art studio and is the Gulls' official scorekeeper.

All Gulls' games can be heard on KOGO radio (60), with Ron Oakes doing the play-by-play.

In last week's season opening activity, the Gulls won two of three games over a difficult city-hopping weekend. The Gulls opened the season Friday night in Phoenix, losing 5-1; came home to beat Denver, 3-0, in the home opener Saturday night before a crowd of 11,621, then went to Seattle and beat the Totems, 4-1, on Sunday evening.

Earl Heiskala, the Gulls' new captain, scored the lone goal for San Diego against Phoenix, although the Gulls did inadvertantly put the puck into their own net twice in the game.

On Saturday evening, Ken Broderick blanked the Spurs as the Gulls got goals from Al Nicholson, Jim Cardiff and Bob Courcy. Cardiff's goal, scored on a breakaway with the Gulls short-handed, broke up a close game.

Gerry Goyer scored twice and Courcy once on Sunday night as they led the Gulls to the win over Seattle. Jack McCartan played a strong game in goal for the Gulls.

In Saturday night's game, the Gulls ran up 57 minutes in penalties to establish a new team single-game high. The Gulls had 11 minors, three majors, a misconduct and a game misconduct in shattering the former single-game record of 39 minutes.

Following the Gulls' game against the Buckaroos tomorrow night, the team will take five days off before returning to action against the Seattle Totems on Thursday night, October 28.

Aztec Cagers Open First Practices

San Diego State College basketball coach Dick Davis welcomed some 20 hopefuls last week at Peterson gym for the first days of cage practice.

Davis and State bucketball fans are excited over this season's outlook.

A fine nucleus for a winning ball club is formed by returning guards Jimmy Wilkins and Jimmy Harris, who have shown their ball-handling skills.

To complement the pair, two forwards have transferred to State from junior colleges. Chris McMurray, 6-7, from Sacamento City College, averaged 22.3 points per game last season and was the second leading rebounder among junior college players. Larry Jones, 6-6, from Laney College, was tenth in rebounding.

Rounding out what could be the starting quintet will be Ken Barstow, a Lemon Grove star who sat out last year after transferring from Seattle. Barstow stands 6-11 and played his prep ball at Mount Miguel.

Adding to the excitement of a strong team will be the fact that the Aztecs this year will play their home games in the San Diego International Sports Arena.

For fans of the freshman team, even more excitement is added in the likes of Allan Bunting and Gary Earle, who last year played for Monte Vista High School in Spring Valley. Other frosh stars include Mike Honz, last year's star of the Grossmont League, and John Service, from Patrick Henry.

The opening games of the season will be December 1.

S.D. Symphony To Start Season November 4, 5

The San Diego Symphony Orchestra begins its 44th season Nov. 4 and 5 with identical concerts under the baton of Peter Eros, brilliant 39-year old protege of the late George Szell.

"Renaissance of Fine Music" is the theme for the 1971-1972 series of eight identical concert pairs held Thursday and Friday evenings at 8:30 at Civic Theatre.

The season opener is a finely balanced all-orchestra program with Wagner's Overture to Die Meistersinger von Nurnberg, Copland's Billy the Kid (Ballet Suite) and Bethoven's Symphony No. 3.

Eros, one of the most highly respected conductors of his generation, will also conduct the second concert pair November 18 and 19. Featured will be violin prodigy Lilit Gampel as soloist.

Guest conductors during the remainder of the season include Andre Kostelanetz, ames Levine, Donald Johanos, Harry Newstone and the Symphony's Concert Master, Robert Emile.

Guest artists for the season include pianist Alicia De Larrocha, mezzo Janet Baker — a favorite of San Diego audiences — pianist Misha Dichter, cellist Janos Starker and pianist Horacio Gutierrez. Soloists for a spring choral concert have not been selected.

Season tickets priced from $20 to $40 are on sale at the Symphony Office, Balboa Park, and Civic Theatre Box Office. Students and military personnel with proper identification may purchase tickets at one-half price.

Eros is Budapest born and an honor graduate of the Franz Liszt Academy. Moving to the Netherlands in 1956, he began conducting for Hilversum Radio and assisting Otto Klemperer and Ferenc Friesay at the Salsburg, Bayreuth and Holland Festivals.

Local Women Involved In Quota Conference

Quota Club of San Diego will host approximately 150 members of the 25th District Quota International, at the annual conference Friday, Saturday and Sunday at the Sheraton Inn on Harbor Island. Quota is a business/professional women's organization. The theme is "Let Freedom Ring". Friday arrivals will enjoy a fun night at "San Diego ShowDown". Business sessions will begin Saturday morning at 8.

The banquet speaker Saturday night will be Mrs. Jack Watson, graduate of the University of Vienna. The title of her speech "Are You Confused About America" highlights her life under communist rule and focuses on infiltration of communism in America.

Mrs. Watson has been a U.S. citizen since 1949 and has given over 400 speeches in Southern California during the past year. She has been honored as Woman of The Year by Pro-American Associations, which bestow the honor only once every five years.

Local club members participating in the conference from this area are Mrs. Charles R. Coover, Mrs. Donald C. Yeager and Lucille McClure of La Mesa, and Mrs. W. K. Long, Lemon Grove.

Policemen in Birmingham, Ala., may now wear long sideburns, provided they are of even width an dare not flared.

William Irwin Enrolls At Seattle Pacific

William Irwin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald E. Irwin of 4124 N. Rogers rd., Spring Valley, has enrolled as a freshman at Seattle Pacific College.

Irwin is a graduate of Monte Vista High School. He is part of a freshman class numbering about 430 which took part in a week long orientation September 21 to September 26.

Seattle Pacific College is a four-year liberal arts college established in 1891 by the Free Methodist Church. It now has an enrollment of over 2,000 students, with majors offered in 27 different areas.

SEASON OPENER — Peter Eros, w[illegible]s appeared with such acclaimed orchestras as the C[illegible]nd Symphony and the London Royal Philharmonic, [illegible]e the guest conductor for the season opener o[illegible]San Diego Symphony Orchestra November 4 and 5. Three-Act Play To Open At Grossmont

The Communication Arts/Drama Department of Grossmont College will open Dario Fo's "Thieves, Corpses and Fallen Women," at 8:30 p.m. tonight in the Stagehouse Theatre.

"Thieves, Corpses and Fallen Women" is a trio of one-act comedies done in a melodramatic style. The first subtitled "All Thieves Aren't Harmful," concerns a series of mistaken identity episodes of men and their mistresses.

The cast for the opening act includes Jimmy Ray Hutton, Lakeside, Thief; Heidi Hall, Thief's wife; Phil Battaglia, Man; Jeri Dexheimer, Woman; Ramona Gardner, Man's Wife, all of La Mesa and Harry Cannon, El Cajon, Husband.

The second one act subtitled, "The Naked Man and the Man in Tails," concerns two streetcleaners and a prostitute. The cast for the second "melodrama" includes Jimmy Ray Hutton as the First Streetcleaner, Curtis Harned Santee, Second Streetcleaner, Dora Pearson, La Mesa, Prostitute and Phil Battaglia as the Naked Man. Tom Stanko. El Cajon, Policeman and Harry Cannon, Flower Seller.

The closing act subtitled, "The Bartered Corpse" is an Italian take-off on an American "Western." The cast for this act has Tom Stanko, Papa; Curtis Harned, Marco; Feliza Caughlin, Spring Valley, Maria; Jimmy Ray Hutton, the Drunk and Phil Battaglia as the "Stranger."

"Thieves, Corpses and Fallen Women" will also be presented October 22, 23, 28, 29 and 30 in the Stagehouse Theatre with a curtain time of 8:30 p.m. for all performances.

The price of admission is $1.50 with reservations required. Reservations may be obtained by calling 465-1700, Ext. 327.

LG Woman's Club Sets Party Tomorrow

The Lemon Grove Woman's Club will hold its annual Halloween Masquerade and contest party at the clubhouse, 2810 Main st., Lemon Grove, tomorrow at 1:30 p.m.

Hostesses will be Mrs. William Bowlin and Mrs. Randolph Morse.

Policemen in Hertford, Eng. are required to wear hats at all times, even when riding in police cars.

Aztecs To Host Aggies Tomorrow

Friday night college football games are a rarity and if San Diego State had its druthers they would be even rarer.

But, such is not the case as tomorrow night at 7:30 p.m. the Aztecs will collide with Utah State in San Diego Stadium. State must play on the odd day due to a San Diego Charger game Saturday evening.

Playing Friday night contests causes all kinds of problems. The main one is a loss of practice time. Instead of four days to prepare, there are only three and, in the case of a tough game, this means a lot.

The Aztecs have an intense dislike concerning Friday evening affairs for more than this reason, also. Friday nighters have never been enjoyable for State. The last time the Montezumans had such a game was last season against Cal State Long Beach. Few will forget that Long Beach stopped the Aztecs 27-11 to not only snap a 31-game unbeaten string, but also cost State the undisputed Pacific Coast Athletic Association crown and a trip to the Pasadena Bowl.

Of course, the opposition means the most and in Utah State the Aztecs will more than have their hands full.

"I'm certain that this is the best team we've ever played against, at least as long as I've been at San Diego State," remarked Coryell. "I believe it's better than the Iowa State team of last year.

"Defensively they are extremely tough," continued Coryell. "Offensively they do a lot of things well. They have a dangerous passing attack and a tremendous receiver in Bob Wicks who's one of the best in the nation. They can score a lot of points."

Mats Blast Sults, 21-34

The Mount Miguel High School cross country team went to Santana last Friday afternoon for a stroll over the Sultan's new course and came home with no injuries and a victory, 21-34.

Taking things easy, Matadors Joe Stubbs and Joe Badger tied for first place over the 1.9-mile course, which includes chuck holes, plenty of cactus, and a three-foot drop which the runners must jump.

Tom Goss ad Mike Martin, the Sultan's top pair, took third and fourth in the race, and were followed by Jim Jordan, Gary Trask, and John Klein for Mount Miguel.

"We didn't want anybody to run too hard on this course," confided Matador coach Jim Peabody. "I wanted to make sure no one got injured."

The Matadors ran the race with caution, but still tried to pick up respectable times in preparation for three "big" meets coming up.

The Aztec Invitation, which is scheduled for tomorrow, is the first important race the local crew will undertake since its season opening loss to El Cajon.

The next big one will be the Mount San Antonio College Invitational meet. At both of these meets, Mount Miguel will get another crack at El Cajon. The third of the big meets will be November 12, when the Mats host Monte Vista, longtime arch-rivals.

On Tuesday, Mount Miguel picked up another easy win over the Grossmont Foothiller, handing the hapless harriers a 22-39 setback.

Joe Stubbs led the way for the locals, clocking 9:09 despite a head cold that has hampered him in workouts the past few days.

George Pullen ran a good race for the 'Hillers, coming in second, nine seconds off the pace.

Joe Badger relaxed in third place with a 9:20 for the Matadors, and he was followed by Bob Morrison, in 9:24; Gary Trask, in 9:36, and John Klein, in 9:39 to complete the Matador scorecard.

Grossmont's Bob Wilson came through for seventh place, just two seconds ahead of Miguel's Rick Debus, who ran for the first time since the El Cajon meet three weeks ago.

Debus sustained a severe foot injury in that race, and prior to the injury was running consistently within seven seconds of Stubbs as the local team's number two man.

Museum Schedules Films for November

The San Diego Natural History Museum last week announced its schedule of films for November.

The first films of the month will be shown November 6 and 7. They are "The Mountains" and "The Desert", both 14-minute color films. "The Mountains" explores the variety of plants and animals to be found in the mountain regions and describes forms and forces that created the mountains. "The Desert" describes the North American desert and explains how plants and animals manage to survive in the arid region.

The following weekend, "Valley of the Swans", a 26-minute color production, will be shown. The film follows migrating waterfowl in Canada to Duck Lake in the mountain-encircled sanctuary of British Columbia's Valley of the Swans.

November 20 and 21 will bring "Water Birds of the Western Flyways" and "The Sea Otter". "Water Birds", a 15-minute color film, describes feeding habits and nesting activity of water birds in various habitats. "Sea Otter" shows how a species can be restored after near extinction. The film, in color, will last 10 minutes.

"Wildflowers of the West" and "Africa's Vanishing Wildlife" will be shown over the weekend of November 27. The 12-minute color production "Wildflowers" follows the northward progress of spring, starting with the wildflowers of the desert. "Africa's Vanishing Wildlife" illustrates how man's increasing pressure threatens Africa's remaining wildlife regions.

In addition to the month's films, the museum has scheduled a nature walk through Los Penasquitos Canyon for November 20.

Applications Mailed By U.C.S.D.

A small mountain of undergraduate applications for the 1972-73 school year, some 3,500 in all, was mailed to high school and transfer students last week by the Office of Admissions at the University of California, San Diego.

The first mailing filled all requests for undergraduate applications received by UCSD through October 14. By the time the application period is closed at the end of November, some 10,000 application packets are expected to have been sent out.

Applications are available from the Office of Admissions by mail or over the counter at Building 102, Matthews Campus at UCSD.

Under University rules, prospective undergraduate students must complete and return the applications during the month of November to be considered for admittance at the start of the fall quarter, 1972.

While students are advised to avoid the last minute rush, all applications filed during November will receive equal consideration.

After November 30, additional applications will be accepted if campus space limitations are not reached. Applications received in excess of campus limitations will be forwarded to the candidate's next campus choice.

Halloween Film Set

As Halloween approaches and witches and goblins get ready for their annual appearance, the Lemon Grove Library has scheduled a special Halloween film program for youngsters of all ages October 28.

The library will blow the dust off a creepy old thriller starring Stan Laurel and Oliver Hardy for the free showing at 7:30 p.m. at the library, 7735 Pacific ave.

"Laurel and Hardy Murder Case" will be the film.

NEWEST ITALIAN FOOD SPOT — Nicolosi's Italian Restaurant is Lemon Grove's newest spot for Italian food, including pizza, spaghetti, homemade Italian bread, and food to go. Owned by Dick Nicolosi, the restaurant is open 11 a.m. to midnight Monday through Thursday, noon to 10 p.m. Sunday, and 11 a.m. to 2 a.m. Friday and Saturday. Nicolosi, who has been in the Italian Food business for many years, said that everything is hand made from old family recipes.

'Blue Man' Is New French Spot

Lemon Grove's first and only French restaurant is the place in town where the food is good and getting better.

Robert Amouroux decided to put The Blue Man in Lemon Grove at 7874 Broadway, where the size and location is right.

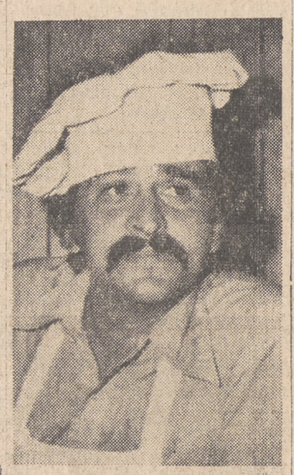
Amouroux said he picked the name out of a dream just before he opened the dinner spot. In the dream, he was operating a restaurant and was unable to get the food to the customers, when a man dressed in blue came to his aid.

Amouroux was born in San Francisco but was raised in Tijuana, where his father operated the restaurant in Caesar's Hotel and owned movie theatres.

For many years, he traveled through Europe before settling in Chula Vista and starting the local restaurant.

The Blue Man, Amouroux hopes, is a starting point for several small restaurants specializing in certain types of foods. However, the foods he plans for his restaurants will not be "typical."

In an Italian restaurant, he would not serve the cutomary spaghetti, ravioli and pizza. but rather a more sophisticated line of Italian food.



Amouroux

The Blue Man serves such dishes as "coq au vin", chicken in wine sauce with mushrooms; "veal Normandy"; and "boucf bourguigone", beef stew with red wine sauce.

Although things are going pretty well at The Blue Man, Amouroux has had some problems. For example, he has found it impossible to find snails at wholesale.

Snails commonly served in France, Amouroux said, are raised and imported from Poland. Common garden snails can be used, although special processing is needed.

In a restaurant in France, a customer would ordinarily pay about three francs, or about 60 to 80 cents, for an order of half a dozen snails. In the United States, the price is closer to $2.

Amouroux has the restaurant open from 11:30 a.m. to 2 p.m. for lunch and again from 5 to 9 p.m. for dinner.

He said that the reason the restaurant is open for lunch is to "expose the people of Lemon Grove to good food" as a preview to dinner.

The restaurant was decorated by Benjamin Serrano, who also has hung several of his paintings inside. Serrano recently won critical acclaim for his works at the California Exposition in Pasadena.

Approximately a fourth of all paper products are made from recycled fibres.

WSCS Plans Annual Meeting

The women of St. Mark's United Methodist Church, 3502 Clairemont dr., San Diego, will host the San Diego District Women's Society of Christian Service Annual Meeting tomorrow. Coffee and sharing time are scheduled for 9 a.m. The meeting will conclude with luncheon.

The Reverend Michael Cooney, of the Imperial Beach United Methodist Church will be keynote speaker on the day's theme "Being People for Peace". Included in the day's program will be installation of officers and a pledge service. Mrs. Harrell Hurt, District President, will preside with Mrs. Robert Wilton, spiritual growth chairman, presenting devotions.

Growth Reported By BankAmericard Corp.

A substained growth in earnings and strong deposit increases highlighted the performance of BankAmerica Corporation during the first three quarters of 1971, President A. W. Clausen announced.

Consolidated income before securities transactions for the nine months ended September 30 rose to $126,038,000 or $3.66 per share, Clausen said. This reflects an increase of 7.3% over the comparable 1970 figure of $117,183,000 or $3.41 per share.

VFW Auxiliary Meeting Due

Mrs. Everett York, president of the San Diego County Council Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary, annouced that the next meeting of the council will be held at the Lakeside VFW Post Home, 12650 Lindo In., Lakeside, at 8 p.m. Monday.

Mrs. Phillip Wagner, Community Service chairman for the Council, has made arrangements for the purchase of 110 bowling shirts to be presented to the San Diego County Retarded Children's Association. The project is one of many planned by the Council for this year. Further programs will be announced at a later date.

Reiter Replaces Chapman on SDCWA

Glenn M. Reiter has been appointed to the Board of Directors of the San Diego County Water Authority. He is the general manager-secretary and chief engineer of the Otay Municipal Water District and will represent that organization on the board. He replaces Ralph W. Chapman who has served since 1964 and who has resigned.

Reiter holds a degree in Sanitary/Hydraulic Engineering, and served in the Navy.

Storm Total Near One Inch

It's just like Mr. Nixon said. Things would get better this fall.

And, sure enough, they did.

At east the rainfall total showed an improvement. With a half inch falling Saturday and .28 of an inch dropping Sunday, it brought the season total to .96 of an inch. Last year at the same time it was .13.

On Sept. 29 a small storm brought .18. Rain season is from July 1.

Hitch-Hiking Danger Cited

issuing verbal warnings in the unincorporated areas of the county.

After contacting the juvenile hitch-hiker, the patrol officer will have a follow-up letter and a pamphlet sent to the hitch-hiker's parents

The pamphlet, "Hitch-hiking Easy — Fun Deadly" carries a warning regarding homicide and reproduces several newspaper stories about hitch-hikers who were slain. It also contains a message from Sheriff John F. Duffy and it cites the laws regarding hitch-hiking. Finally, it carries the additional warning; "Caution: Hitch-hiking may be hazardous to your health."

Copies of the pamphlet may be obtained at the local office at 7859 Broadway. It is the result of concerned effort on the part of the Sheriff's Office and the Uptown Optimist club, Lt. Hill said.

Bank Earnings Decline

Southern California First National Corporation listed a decline in earnings but an increase in total assets and deposits in a nine-month report issued recently.

The San Diego-based firm said income before securities transactions for the nine months ended September 30 was $2,911,000 or 74 cents per share, compared to $4,179,000 or $1.11 per share for the same period in 1970. Net income for the 1971 period was $3,292,000 or 84 — off 20 cents per share, compared to $3,927,000 or $1.04 at this time last year.

HEALTHY BEES — Charles Morse, left, apiary inspector for San Diego County Department of Agriculture, and John H. Green of Lakeside, check a colony of bees in one of Greene's apiaries. Morse spends two-thirds of his time inspecting apiaries throughout the County to find and prevent the spread of bee disease. Greene is one of nearly 400 beekeepers in the County projected by the program.

County Beekeepers Helped By Apiary Inspector Charles Morris

Wild cherry, avocado, sage, mountain flower, orange, mesquite, saga-buckwheat — these and other flowers can add up to over $600,000 a year for honey producers in San Diego County.

"That $600,000 is in a good year when there's lots of rain. It can go right down to almost nothing when there's a dry year with few flowers," says Charles Morse, Apiary Inspector for the County of San Diego Department of Agriculture.

There are 25,000 registered bee colonies in San Diego County. Only 11 beekeepers in the County can be considered commercial with 600 or more, with 200 having less than 10 colonies.

Beekeeping is a mobile occupation; the bees must be where the flowers are. Usually up to 80 hives are placed in one location, sometimes as many as 120. This might be on the edge of an orange or avocado grove when the trees are in bloom. At the end of the blooming season, the hives are loaded onto a special truck with a boom and pulley — a hive weighs 120 pounds — and moved to another location, perhaps up into the mountains for sage-buckwheat nectar.

"You can't just set your hives down anywhere you want to," says Morse. "It's all carefully regulated by State and County laws. Each hive is supposed to be registered. If a hive is moved, notice must be sent of the old and new location. Then the beekeeper must have permission of the landowner, place the bees at least 100' from a public road and 600' from an occupied dwelling. The bees mustn't be moved in daylight unless they're confined. Bees fly any day the sun is out; they're quiet only if it's dark, the temperature unusually low, or it's raining."

Registration of the hives lets the County Department of Agriculture keep some sort of count on the bees. The commercial owner can purchase a registered brand number which he can burn into the wooden hives so that if "beenappers" strike, his hives can be identified.

Beenappers are active and pose a real problem. A beekeeper may live 300 miles or more from some of his apiaries. With the hives tucked away in the brush or on the edge of an orchard, it's easy for a knowledeable thief to drive up a bee truck some evening, load the hives, be out of the area and establish the hives in a new location by the time dawn breaks.

"One farmer told me of noticing a beekeeper moving a nearby apiary," Morse recounts. "He stopped and made arrangements for the bees to be placed on his property the next year for pollination purposes. Several days later, when the real bee owner came looking for his hives, the farmer realized he had made a deal with a mighty cool beenapper."

Pollination is an important sideline for many beekeepers. Orchard owners and crop growers will pay up to $10 a hive to have the bees placed nearby for pollination. Imperial Valley alfalfa growers are always happy to have beehives there, although the growing use of airplane-spread pesticides which also kill the bees is an increasing hazard. The Federal Government, in recognition of this peril, will now repay beekeepers for documented losses due to insecticides.

And where does the County Apiary Inspector fit into this picture? His main work is inspecting hives for a particularly virulent bee disease called American foul brood. This disease attacks the young bees in the larval stage, killing them. The honey becomes infected and marauding bees from other hives can carry it back and infect their own colony.

"The only treatment at present is to destroy the infected colonies," stated Morse. "For this purpose, the County Department of Agriculture operates the only legal incinerator in the County. Located in Santa Ysabel, the incinerator complex includes a bee-tight warehouse where infected hives are stored until enough are accumulated to justify burning. We only burn at night so there is no chance of a bee picking up infection from the smoke or by getting into an infected hive as it waits its turn in the fire."

One other treatment is to take the hive to a commercial wax salvage plant where the frames are washed under high temperatures, rinsing out the dead larvae and salvaging the beeswax. Either treatment means that the colony is lost and the beekeeper must start with a new nucleus. If not caught and immediately dealt with, the disease can spread through a whole apiary with a resultant severe loss to the beekeeper.

In conjunction with the State Department of Agriculture, the University of California Farm Advisor and the San Diego County Beekeepers Association, Morse is overseeing experiments of various types, including carefully controlled attempts to cure American foul brood with drugs. This is difficult, since it is estimated that there are nearly 100 strains of the bacteria causing AFB.

Tomato Industry Watches For Broomrape Parasite

San Diego County's $20 million tomato industry is under close scrutiny for branched broomrape, a serious parasitic weed. According to Ken Sims, Plant Pathologist for the San Diego County Department of Agriculture, a recent find in two tomato fields in Ventura County has established that spread of considerable distances is possible by the pest.

Previous infestations were known in Alameda, Sacramento, San Joaquin, Santa Clara and Yolo counties. It is not known how the weed arrived in Ventura County. However, the seeds are minute and can be carried on harvesting equipment, picking boxes, or on workers' clothing.

Broomrape plants cannot manufacture their own food and are, therefore, obligatory parasites. Each broomrape plant may produce up to 50,000 seeds. Seeds have been known to remain viable for more than ten years. They will not germinate unless a suitable crop is grown, so crop rotation does not appreciably reduce the damage potential.

In the northern counties, yields were reduced more than fifty per cent in badly infected fields. Sims said that in Ventura County, preliminary data indicates a better than twenty per cent loss in relatively lightly infected field. Costly fumigation is the only known means of control.

Young broomrape plants appear as a cluster of low-growing yellow shoots up to eight inches tall growing near the base of tomato plants. As the young broomrape grows, it continually produces white to pale blue tubular flowers, closely followed by development of seed capsules containing vast numbers of seed about the size of fine black pepper. If parasitized plants are inspected, it will be found that broomrape plants are attached by small sucker-like organs directly to the root.

Sims said that when mature, broomrape plants appear dusky tan to brown with seed capsules open.
